PROFILE

Founder-operator, board director, and startup advisor with 25+ years of strategic operations experience helping technology companies move from product ambiguity to market execution, from founder-led effort to repeatable operating motions, and from early narrative to investor, customer, and partner readiness. Experience spans B2B SaaS, AI/API products, cyber governance, compliance, sport tech, consumer tech, edtech, hardware, venture ecosystems, U.S. market entry, and corporate innovation programs.

Commercially technical operator who translates between founders, technical teams, investors, enterprise customers, strategic partners, and board-level stakeholders. Comfortable reading API documentation, testing basic API calls, using SQL-based workflows, structuring prompts, and turning technical capabilities into practical commercial use cases, product requirements, GTM narratives, and partner enablement materials.

SELECTED IMPACT

- AI/API and software commercialization: helped position and commercialize cyber governance, compliance, AI, and API products for enterprise customers, MSSPs, consultancies, GRC platforms, and technology partners.
- Startup and founder advisory: advised founders on product clarity, business models, GTM strategy, fundraising narratives, operating priorities, investor/customer readiness, and revenue paths.
- Investor readiness and venture advisory: advises Trivium Venture Network on startup presentation, investment thesis framing, founder pitch feedback, and venture network growth strategy.
- International market entry: mentored foreign startups entering the U.S. market through French Tech Hub and The Refiners, including positioning, pitch refinement, partner development, and U.S. market readiness.
- Corporate innovation and ecosystem exposure: managed Silicon Valley innovation tours for established enterprises, connecting executives with startups, technology companies, and venture ecosystem participants.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Secberus AI — Co-Founder, Board Director & Founder-Operator

Remote / United States • Oct 2018 – Present

Co-founded a cyber governance and compliance technology company, operating across product commercialization, partnerships, GTM, strategic operations, board governance, customer development, and lean-company execution.

- Led business-side positioning for the shift from a traditional SaaS governance platform toward AI-first compliance tools, including the Compliance Mapping AI API, GRC Agentic AI workflows, and gap analysis capabilities.
- Owned the business-side initiative to introduce a Text-to-SQL AI co-pilot into the flagship governance platform, translating customer workflow needs into product requirements, prompt/workflow concepts, internal priorities, and customer/partner positioning.
- Originated the concept and mathematical model for a risk algorithm, later developed with the CTO and engineering team; named co-inventor on the related patent.
- Translated technical capabilities into customer use cases, partner narratives, sales materials, demo flows, proof-of-concept plans, product documentation, executive materials, board communications, and diligence materials.
- Built OEM and channel partnership motions across VARs, GSIs, MSSPs, consultancies, security platforms, GRC ecosystem partners, and enterprise technology vendors.
- Worked with technical leadership on product direction, roadmap input, customer requirements, market positioning, partner priorities, commercial packaging, and product-to-market messaging.
- Served on the Board of Directors and worked with investors on company strategy, governance, restructuring, operating plans, transaction-related preparation, and ongoing business decisions.
- Repositioned Secberus from a platform-led SaaS story to clearer enterprise, partner, and developer-facing narratives around compliance mapping, gap analysis, AI-enabled workflows, and automation.
